CONGO POLICY

Bitter Row In UK House

LONDON (Reuters) — The government was caught today in the middle of a bitter political row over its Congo policy. As the Commons headed into an important foreign affairs debate, the opposition Labour party was pressing a motion of non-confidence in the government charging it with "vacillating" in its Congo policy. At the same time, right-wing members of the Conservative party were pressing Prime Minister Macmillan's government to withdraw financial aid for United Nations action in the Congo unless there is a cease-fire in Katanga. The Labour party charged that the government's "equivocal" Congo policy, which saw it first promising and then holding up an offer of bombs to Indian UN forces, was "bringing the name of Britain into disrepute." The government was spared an even bigger parliamentary storm Wednesday when the UN withdrew its request for the bombs. This helped to smooth over a rebellion by right-wing Conservatives demanding that the government refuse to provide the weapons. But about 70 Conservative legislators were believed to support the view that Britain should not go on paying Congo costs unless there is a Katanga cease-fire. The Labour party took the opposite view, demanding full British backing for the UN operation. The Labourites argued that the government's policy was making it more difficult for UN troops in the Congo, including Commonwealth units, to perform their mission. British newspapers lamented the fact that the Congo crisis had caused a policy split between Britain and the United States.

US And Soviet Link Up On Disarmament Plan

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — A three-year moratorium on the disarmament "game" between the United States and the Soviet Union ended Wednesday night — but the verbal fighting didn't. The two countries joined in a rare show of agreement in presenting a joint disarmament resolution — setting up a negotiating body — and it was passed by acclamation in the 103-member senior political committee. They thus ended months of dickerings about what countries should be represented on the committee, settling on 18 — adding eight to the East-West bargaining group whose work collapsed in Geneva June 27, 1960. But Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin immediately afterward renewed another wrangle by charging that the Western nuclear countries were trying to wreck recently resumed negotiations in Geneva on a nuclear test ban treaty. These charges were angrily rejected by Arthur Dean of the U.S. and Joseph Godber of Britain, who said the shoe was clearly on the other foot since Russia was guilty of breaking

Armed Band Attacks Goa

PANJIM, Goa (Reuters) — A small armed band attacked a military post at Margao in western Goa early today amid continuing tension over the dispute between Portugal and India about this tiny Portuguese enclave. An announcement here said there was some shooting and some hand grenades were thrown in the attack. No casualties were reported.

SHE JUST TORE OFF A STRIP

NAGOYA, Japan (AP) — "Okay, girls hand over everything you've got," the burglar threatened as he broke into an apartment here Wednesday. "Before you take our valuables let me perform for you," said Tamami Oki, 22. She switched on the radio and began peeling off her clothes. The thief's eyes popped. "Wonderful! This is more than I bargained for." The other girl, Michiko Oishi, 21, slipped out the back way and called the police. "How was I to know the girls were professional stripteasers at a burlesque house?" the burglar told police.

Big Airlines Asked To 'Mesh'

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's two major airlines have been urged by the federal cabinet to explore all possible ways of "meshing" their international services into a single front, a reliable source said today. As a result, Trans-Canada Air Lines and Canadian Pacific Airlines are understood to be comparing notes at the highest levels on how they might cooperate rather than compete.

CAR-TRAIN COLLISION KILLS TWO AT LUMBY

Mother-To-Be, Daughter Die, Three Others Hurt

VERNON (Staff) — A car-train collision Wednesday, near Lumby, killed an expectant mother and her 10-month-old daughter. Her husband and son are reported in "poor" condition, and a fifth passenger as only "fair" in Vernon hospital.

Mrs. Antoine Wagner, 24, was believed killed instantly when an eastbound CPR freight engine ploughed into the Wagner car broadside. Her daughter Anita died later in hospital.

Taken to hospital following the accident was her husband Antoine, 45, Antoine Jr., two-and-a-half, who have multiple injuries and Mrs. John Engler, 47, all of Lumby. The accident occurred at 12:55 p.m. on the Dure Meadow Road as the Wagners and Mrs. Engler were returning from Vernon. The engine and single caboose, said to be travelling at a slow rate of speed, hit the vehicle at the level crossing and carried it about 15-feet along the track right-of-way.

Police say there was no sign of automobile skidmarks. Cause of the accident is not known. RCMP are investigating. Mrs. Gerald Thauvette, who lives near the scene of the accident, was first to arrive at the wrecked car. "I dashed outside at the sound of the train whistle to check on my dog," Mrs. Thauvette said, then I heard the crash and rushed over. It was a terrible sight."

Dr. J. R. Smith answered the emergency call and the children were first removed from the wreckage to the home of Mrs. Thauvette awaiting the ambulance. Mrs. Engler was assisted to a nearby police car, but rescuers had difficulty in removing the unconscious body of Mr. Wagner from the twisted metal.

Engineer of train is reported as saying when he saw the car it was too late. "It was impossible to stop from hitting the vehicle," he said. He was not identified by RCMP or railway officials.

Ironically, Mr. Wagner, under compensation for an injured foot sustained in a mill accident, was returning to Lumby from Vernon for a medical check.

BACKS US, UK

Howard Green, Canada's external affairs minister, has put Canada solidly behind the British and American stand that the West should be ready to negotiate with Russia on Berlin. "Our position throughout has been that the West should keep up defences but be ready to negotiate," Green said Wednesday following the opening-day sessions of the NATO ministerial council. (See story below.)

Support Builds In UN For Study Of China Issue

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — and existence," although believing "in principle" that Peking should be admitted. The proposals are vague and cautious, but support appears to be building up for appointment of a committee to study Red China's claim for United Nations membership. Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union were scheduled to be cleanup speakers when debate on the China question resumes in UN General Assembly tonight. Wednesday, three Commonwealth countries—Malaya, New Zealand and Cyprus—supported the idea of setting up a UN committee to make a broad study of China problems, especially the question of seating Communist China.

One Canadian diplomat said that although the concept keeps cropping up in private conversations, he has heard nothing of any country preparing a resolution for such a committee, even though the vote on the China question is imminent. Russia has demanded the expulsion of Nationalist China and the immediate seating of the Peking regime but this idea was challenged Wednesday by Malaya's Dato Nik Ahmed Kamil.

RIGHT IN PRINCIPLE He defended the "right of the people of Formosa to maintain their separate political identity."

Parliament Sits Jan. 18

OTTAWA (CP) — The fifth and probably last — session of Canada's 24th Parliament will convene Thursday, Jan. 18. Prime Minister Diefenbaker made the announcement to reporters early today at Uplands Airport on his return from his hometown, Prince Albert, Sask. He gave no details of the planned legislative program but presumably a general election, which may take place as early as March, would have a bearing on it.

OTTAWA (CP) — Negotiations have been concluded for the purchase by Mexico of another $12,500,000 worth of steel rails from Canada, it was learned today.

Defences Pondered By Nato

PARIS (AP) — The top cabinet ministers of the North Atlantic alliance today put aside the controversial issue of negotiating with the Russians on Berlin and turned to the state of Western defences.

Defence chiefs of the 15-country alliance took over from the foreign ministers to review progress toward the goal of 30 combat divisions fixed seven years ago but still not achieved.

U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, told the assembly Wednesday a strength of 25 divisions will be reached by the end of this year and possibly 23 of them will be fully equipped.

The assembly, drawn from the parliaments of European NATO members, endorsed Norstad's annual call for a NATO force of 30 divisions, which the NATO strategists say would be sufficient to meet a Communist attack without resort of nuclear weapons.

NATO Urges Cease Fire

PARIS (AP) — A new effort got under way at the NATO ministers conference today to get a cease-fire in Katanga.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak told newspapermen his government is working "together with the French and the British for possible mediation" between secessionist Katanga province and UN forces.

The NATO council discussed defence problems in an atmosphere clouded by unresolved differences between some of the powers of the Katanga problem.

PLEA TO JFK

End 'Veritable Murder' By UN In Katanga Fight

ELIZABETHVILLE — A senior representative of the Union Minière Mining Company in Katanga today appealed to President Kennedy against what he called "veritable murder" by United Nations forces here.

The executive, Jules Cousin, sent a telegram to the United States embassy in Brussels, Belgium, for forwarding to the White House. In it Cousin said he was returning to the president his U.S. Medal of Freedom awarded in 1946.

The telegram charged that the United Nations was "blindly" killing and wounding innocent people, even in hospitals.

(A UN spokesman in Leopoldville said fighting continued in Elizabethville, with heavy mortar and automatic weapons fire directed at UN positions in the city stadium.)

CCF-New Democrats Lose Their First Saskatchewan Test

WEYBURN, Sask. (CP)—Jun Herbert Staveley, veteran Liberal campaigner, captured a provincial byelection in Weyburn Wednesday night and defeated CCF-New Democratic Party forces in their first test in Saskatchewan.

The victory had little effect on standings in the provincial legislature where the CCF hold 36 of the 55 seats and the Liberals now hold 19.

Premier Woodrow S. Lloyd said the defeat of the CCF-NDP candidate does not indicate an early provincial election. To suggest this is "the height of absurdity."

Neither will the result affect the government's plans for a reported, he held a 644-618 edge over Oran D. Reiman, CCF-NDP candidate in the two-way fight.

Mr. Staveley, former mayor of Weyburn, had 5,187 votes and Mr. Reiman 4,317 when counting ended for the night with 59 of the polls reported.

CNR Installs Sleeping Car Service

The Canadian National Railways is inaugurating a new daily sleeping car service between Kamloops Junction, Jasper, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Winnipeg and eastern points. The new service will begin on the weekend.

A similar sleeping car service is already operated between Kamloops Junction and Vancouver.

The new service will enable eastbound sleeping car passengers to board a CN sleeper parked at Kamloops Junction at 9 p.m., commencing Sunday night, and retire at their convenience. The parked sleeper becomes part of CN's fast mainline, the "Super Continental", leaving Kamloops Junction at 2:35 a.m. daily.

IN REVERSE

In the reverse direction, the new service permits sleeper passengers arriving at Kamloops Junction on the "Super Continental" at 3:05 a.m. daily, commencing Monday, to occupy space until 8 a.m., if desired.

However, passengers for the Okanagan, leaving Kamloops Junction on CN's "Railiner" at 7 a.m., would be guided accordingly in order to make the connection.

Ah! Here's a lovely little toy — an atomic bomb set, complete with a rocket simulating an atomic warhead. It flies through the air at the touch of a button, striking home to its target with deadly accuracy — just like the real thing!

And look at this! A genuine simulated commando set, complete with helmet, dagger and sten gun — just like daddy used when he was in the war making it safe for us to live at peace.

Gee! What a swell set of cowboy outfits! There's one with six-shooter, a badge, an Indian headdress for shooting Indians, a rifle and handcuffs.

O boy! There's another one! It's South American style and has a bullwhip, spurs and a big sombrero!

Bang! Look Ma, I shot grandma!

Police cars, guns, atomic sets, rockets, bombers, fighters, lariats and cannons!

Into the valley of death ride our young offspring!

Police this year, as in past years, aren't going to tolerate impaired or drunken drivers on streets and highways.

Such behavior will result in arrest and, if convicted, heavy fines for offenders.

Fair warning has been given by the RCMP to the public in this regard. It should suffice.

Remember the story though, of the impaired driver who was stopped by police.

"You're not driving home in that condition," said the officer.

"Well offisher, I don't know what else I can do, I'm in no condition to walk," was the reply.

In Italy, according to a recent story, kissing in a car is illegal, even if the windows are frosted up and you can't see inside.

In commenting on this momentous piece of news, we might remind the court which made the ruling that Italian men are not going to be very pleased to say the least.

This is not because of the ruling itself, but because no Italian male worth calling such would ever believe the windows would get frosted after he had kissed his lady friend in a car. On the contrary, Italian pride themselves on the warmth of their kisses.

It's a darn good job such a law doesn't exist in this country, for if it did, half the younger generation would be doing life imprisonment on the installment plan.

Kissing, that most pleasant demonstration of affection, be it claimed a means of spreading colds, etc., is still universal.

Thank heavens we live in a free country!

City Salvation Army Ready For Christmas

The Salvation Army story in the Christmas kettle and through donations.

Last year, $2,700 was received by the Army here, an "unbelievable" amount to Salvation Army captain Burton Dumerton.

They hear about the need through phone calls from concerned people. It's a last-minute rush of calls, according to the captain.

At the moment, as well, the young Army people are rehearsing a play for the Christmas service evening called "And There They Found Christ."

It's a modern-day adaptation of the effect of the Christmas story on an average family.

The Army also has kettles at the corner of Bernard and Ellis and there'll be one placed at the Shops Capri by Saturday.

Big Christmas Party For Lloyd-Jones Home

There's no doubt the folks at the Lloyd-Jones home will have a whale of a Christmas this year.

One merry round has been planned for them and final arrangements still haven't been completed.

Biggest night is Dec. 20 when the annual Christmas party will be held at the home with caroling, entertainment provided by the women's auxiliary, a glittering tree, Santa Claus and gift-giving.

Each of the 28 residents may invite two guests. The home staff has this year also invited Mayor and Council, the Board of Management and president and vice-president of the Home auxiliary.

Following the concert, a light supper will be served after gifts are exchanged.

This Sunday, a CGIT group from Rutland will visit their "mystery fathers and mothers" (whom they write during the year on special occasions or just as pen pals) and put on a tea and entertainment for the people at the home.

This evening, the Menonite Choir is coming to sing for the Home residents and next week a group of East Kelowna Explorers will also visit the old folks.

On Dec. 22, Trinity Baptist Church carol singers will put in an appearance to entertain the residents usually spend Christmas elsewhere but the staff goes out of its way to make the day special for those who stay.

A huge Christmas tree will be put up at the home Friday.

CHRISTMAS DAY

Plans for Christmas Day for the Home residents which don't go out to friends and relatives include a turkey and trimmings dinner. More than half the residents usually spend Christmas elsewhere but the staff goes out of its way to make the day special for those who stay.

Boys Club Plans Christmas Party

Friday night from 6.30 on, the under 13-year-olds at the Kelowna Boy's Club will be entertained at an annual Christmas party.

The boys, numbering about 75, will be provided with entertainment by Mike Bower on his guitar and Darryl Scriver who plays accordion.

Following an "Our Gang" film, the boys will dig into refreshments provided by the Club's mothers' auxiliary who are looking after the party and who'll bring a small gift for each boy.

The boys in turn are bringing jars of fruit or vegetables to be turned over to the welfare office.

The club rooms on Lawrence Avenue have been decorated for the party and the Christmas tree goes up Friday before the party.

The Boys' Club to date has a membership of 175 with an average attendance of about 60.

As of Thursday, the arts and crafts workshop will be discontinued until January 8 to give the 20 volunteer instructors a Christmas coffee break. The volunteers, all of them adults, put in an hour a week. During the Christmas holidays, doors will open at 3 p.m.

Problems Need Answers Before Next Election

There are signs which indicate the next general election will not be long delayed. Probably the date has not yet been chosen by Mr. Diefenbaker, but it is equally probable that one or two dates have been chosen, the final selection dependent on how the wind blows in the interval.

The decision is Mr. Diefenbaker's and his alone. He does not need to make up his mind now. He can have the election when he pleases; in the spring, early summer, next fall or even the spring of 1963.

But obviously, the government's political machinery, like that of the opposition, has been well oiled and is operating at full speed. Obviously both parties intend to be ready for an election in the spring or early summer of 1962.

It is not difficult to understand why Mr. Diefenbaker may be having some difficulty in deciding on a definite date. On one hand it would be tempting to dissolve Parliament before another budget of deficits is introduced, as happened in 1958, and to postpone a series of painful decisions.

On the other hand, the memory of another winter of heavy unemployment will still be fresh in the voters' minds if the election is called before midsummer. Mr. Diefenbaker is an able political strategist and is probably weighing the pros and cons with care.

He must also be watching the Gallup Poll closely, even anxiously. If the poll is reasonably right—and its record indicates this to be so—the government could not be elected today. The poll shows that the Liberals have gained a clear lead in the two key provinces of Ontario and Quebec. If the Conservative party no longer controls its Ontario stronghold, there would seem to be little hope of it obtaining a majority in Parliament.

The poll figures suggest that should the election be held today, no party would have a majority in the House; it would be a stalemate, with the Liberals having the largest group.

Under such circumstances, it is unlikely Mr. Diefenbaker could form a government. It is unlikely that the New Democratic or the Social Credit splinters—they can be no more than that—would support the present government.

But the election is some months away yet, and much can happen in the interval. If the present trend of public opinion continues, it is probable the Liberals would be able to form a government. Should the present trend be reversed, Mr. Diefenbaker might emerge from the election with enough followers to form a government.

Which way the pendulum of public opinion swings during the next few months will depend to a great degree on what, if anything, the government does about several major problems which face it: interest rates, inflation, the value of the Canadian dollar, the railway problem and the recommendations of the MacPherson royal commission which have been sidetracked so far; redistribution of parliamentary seats; the depleted unemployment insurance fund; unemployment itself; health insurance; nuclear arms.

And, certainly, to the list one must add this country's foreign trade policy and its attitude on the United Kingdom entering the European Common Market.

Are all these problems to be left until after the election? If so, the delay is unlikely to serve the present government very well. The Canadian people know that this country faces several fundamental problems and they expect fundamental answers. Oratory and another installment of big promises will not be enough to re-elect the government.

The approach of an election puts every visit into a political context, a fact the Liberal opposition regards with some suspicion. It makes it difficult to decide in each case whether the party or the taxpayer should pay travel costs. The Liberals suspect that in many cases where the taxpayer pays, the tab should actually go to Conservative headquarters.

Mr. Diefenbaker flew to Prince Albert a few hours after returning to Ottawa from Hamilton. The Hamilton trip was preceded by a visit to Quebec and Prince Edward Island. And before that there was Toronto for the Grey Cup game, a three-day trip to Newfoundland, and visits to Toronto, Winnipeg and Halifax.

It is all part of the program to carry the story of the government's achievements to the people, it being generally agreed in government circles that the story has not been properly told.

IF WINTER COMES, CAN SPRING BE FAR BEHIND?

INSIDE YOU AND YOURS

Backache! To The Toes

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

What helps sciatica—backache that often shoots down the thigh and leg?

It usually starts with pressure or irritation on any branch of the sciatic nerve, from the small of your back to the tip of your toes. Occasionally, sluggish circulation, vitamin lack and uncontrolled diabetes bring on irritating chemical changes. Bony iceles and ridges, osteoarthritis—around nerve openings along the spine may pinch nerve fibres. The cushioning disc between spinal bones may slip out of place and press on nerves.

Muscle tears, torn ligaments connecting spine and pelvis, abnormal spinal bones and scars from old back injuries can all trigger sciatica. You can't tell which. Even your doctor has trouble!

Unless the pain is mild, hop into bed and call him.

LIE DOWN
Horizontal living rests your back, especially when a 34" plywood board under the mattress prevents sagging.

Slide a pillow under straight knees that stretch sciatic nerves painfully.

Aspirin sooths most pain, but for this your doctor has to prescribe stronger medicine. He may inject numbing procaine, into certain "trigger areas" to relax painful muscle spasm or twist your back to stretch

LETTER TO EDITOR

A SURPRISE!

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir:
A few years ago there appeared in the Courier a humorous letter depicting the difficulties the writer experienced in his endeavors to buy apples in a Kelowna store and stated that the only apples he could find were culls.

This letter was brought to my mind at this time by my own experience today.

I phoned (by proxy) to a local store to place an order for hand-pak apples for Christmas delivery. They informed me that they did not handle apples and that I had better procure them from a grower.

Last year I spent a couple of months in Halifax, Nova Scotia, visiting relatives. A nephew told me (in effect) that my praises of the Okanagan were just hot air and that no better apples were obtainable than those grown in the Annapolis Valley. No, he was not just a brash youngster but a prosperous business man in his late middle age. To demonstrate my point I sent him a box of Delicious at Christmas and he acknowledged them by stating that he retracted all he had said and that his family made short work of them.

B.C. Tree Fruits are making another shipment for me this year in one of their Maritime car loads.

I endeavored to send some to England but was informed that on account of the quota the only way I could do so was through a dealer in Vancouver.

I am considering writing to the London Times on this subject. One would think we were living behind the Iron Curtain when a Canadian (by adoption) is unable to send a free gift to a friend on British soil. I am unable to think that the framers of the quota law had any such thing in mind.

Yours truly,
R. E. SEELEY.

WORLD BRIEFS

EXPECT MANY CALLS
MONTREAL (CP) — About 20,000 calls to and from overseas are expected to be handled at the Bell Telephone overseas switchboard in Montreal during the coming holiday season. Bell officials estimated Wednesday that this will be an increase of 3,000 over the record number made last year. The holiday season is considered to be from Dec. 17 to Jan. 6.

NEW CUSTOMS LAWS
OTTAWA (CP) — Canadians who plan to visit relatives or friends in the United States now can take $100 worth of gifts with them duty-free. The U.S. embassy said Wednesday. The new U.S. customs regulations apply to Canadians spending 72 hours or more in the U.S. The $100 exemption from duty and federal tax is renewable every six months.

In Passing

Instead of merely continuing to talk about it, why don't England and France proceed post-haste to build that tunnel under the English Channel so as to have a fallout shelter of enormous capacity.

"A man is as brilliant as his wife thinks he is," says Dr. Lucile Brankhart. Aw, come now, Lucile—no man could be that dumb.

A middle-ager says in trying to keep up with the younger set, he's living more, but beginning to enjoy it less.

If you have a fallout shelter and young children, you need not worry about those who might break into it. In case of an atomic attack, as they would soon break out of it.

Whatever became of beatniks (we hope)?

At this period of the year it's not only later than you think—it's twice that late.

OTTAWA REPORT

Oil Market Slick Deal

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Our new national oil policy is already proving triumphantly successful in furthering the interests of Canada. But howls of anguish are being heard from U.S. oil interests, which hitherto enjoyed a ride on our backs. When the Diefenbaker government took office, one of the very unsatisfactory situations which it inherited was that oil-rich Canada was spending some $500 million each year on foreign oil, whilst our own huge resources were only partially utilized.

This was perhaps the most glaring case where our adverse balance of international payments was being needlessly aggravated, to the detriment of our whole economy. Directly and indirectly, this caused large numbers of Canadians to be unemployed.

It is widely recognized now that immense damage was done to Canada by the fact that, during the post-war Lotus years, we were buying abroad much more of everything than we were selling. On an unprecedented scale we bought U.S. gadgets, foreign travel, oil and many other things which could in large part have been provided from Canadian sources. To a much less extent we sold Canadian vacations, our minerals, wheat and forest products, and a trickle of manufactured goods.

DOLLAR DAMAGED

We had to borrow U.S. dollars to bridge the payments gap, going into national debt in this way year after year at a clip which rose to more than $250 per family per year. The result was that the exchange value of our dollar rose to a level disastrously above the U.S. dollar. This contributed to making Canadian goods unduly expensive in the home market, and especially in foreign markets; the consequence was wholesale unemployment of Canadians.

Oil seemed to be one very obvious field in which we could correct this terrible trend, which was compelling us to sell off the old homestead acre by acre every year to pay our bills.

Hon. George Hees, our Trade Minister, declared our new national oil policy in Parliament early this year. His intention was that more Canadian oil should be used by Canadians, and that our exports of oil should be boosted to match more closely our imports of oil from Venezuela and the Middle East chiefly controlled by U.S. interests.

Last year our Canadian oilfields were able to sell an average of 545,000 barrels of crude oil per day. This was to be raised to 625,000 by mid-1961, said Mr. Hees, and this target was attained. The average for the whole year will be 640,000—also approximately achieved. By 1963 this is to rise to 800,000, which will still be substantially below the capacity of our oilfields.

USE CANADIAN—OR ELSE

By 1963, our own steadily rising consumption of oil will be equivalent to some 925,000 barrels of crude oil per day. Our own refineries, enlarged by recent additions in Ontario, could now process 1,040,000 barrels daily.

Our exports—all to U.S.—have risen to 228,000 barrels per day during the past month, compared to an average of 115,000 last year. This has made the U.S. producers howl, as this is equivalent to 1½ days production per month for the Texas oilfields. Nevertheless we are now importing, largely through the pipeline from the Maine port of Portland to Montreal, 333,000 barrels of foreign oil per day.

Mr. Hees' new national oil policy has already slashed the excess of our imports above our exports from 210,000 barrels per day last year to 105,000 today.

President Kennedy, in response to howls from Texas, has ordered a study of U.S. oil requirements, to be completed by mid-summer.

If he decides to impose any curbs on our expanding sales of oil to U.S., Ottawa will, it is expected, reciprocate by similar curbs on our imports of oil through Portland. Thus Ottawa would export unemployment from the Alberta oilfields to Maine and foreign oilfields. The gap would be filled by Canadian oil, shipped through the long-proposed and widely advocated pipeline running east to Montreal.

King Gave Up His Throne For His Love 25 Years Ago

Plan Open House At OK Mission

LONDON (AP)—Twenty-five two previous marriages ended, and an American woman one. And now, around the abdication of the most magnificent complication anniversary, an intriguing question has been asked here: Did the duke freely abdicate the throne, or was he pushed off his throne? King Edward VIII gave up his throne to marry Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, whose another and perhaps even more audacious question has been raised: Why is the Duchess of Windsor still not allowed to share her husband's title? The formal title of her husband is "His Royal Highness, the Duke of Windsor." Wives of other "royal" dukes also carry the royal title but the Duchess of Windsor is referred to only as "her grace."

Lord Beaverbrook's Sunday Express says the exclusion of the Duchess of Windsor after 25 years appears to be childish on the part of Buckingham Palace. The theory that the late prime minister Stanley Baldwin drove King Edward VIII into abdication comes from historian-biographer Lewis Broad.

In a new book, "The Abdication—A Reappraisal," Broad offers clues to support the theory that Baldwin nudged Edward off his throne.

In his speech to the House of Commons on the abdication, Baldwin said the king told him: "I am going to marry Mrs. Simpson and I am prepared to go."

Then, explaining his own actions, Baldwin went on: "My efforts during these last days have been directed in trying to help him (the king) make the choice which he has not made" give up as king.

Broad then recalled that years afterwards, when he had retired, Baldwin told his official biographer: "The only time I was frightened was when I thought he might change his mind."

In other words, Baldwin was frightened that the king might give up the woman he loved and remain king.

Baldwin publicly insisted that he wanted Edward to remain on the throne.

But now, 25 years later, a number of people are leaning towards the theory that the king threatened to abdicate but didn't offer to.

AROUND TOWN

The First United Church Women's group, Barbara Stephens, met last night in the church home of Mrs. R. A. Warren to plan the visit to Bethlehem of the Three Wise Men, portrayed by Mrs. Shaden, Mrs. Suter and Mrs. Prance. Mrs. Bexfield was the narrator, scripture reading was by Mrs. Mitchell and other readers were Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Strachan Jr., and Mrs. France. The program was presented with a background of a small choir, white-powdered, from the Isobel Leitch Circle.

After this worship service the members adjourned to the hall for a friendly cup of tea and carol singing. Selections were given by a trio from the Boys' choir, and much enjoyed.

On their arrival, the guests were escorted to the rumpus room which was decorated in a Christmas theme. The many lovely shower gifts which were stacked under the Christmas tree were then presented to the guest of honor and enjoyed by all those present.

Mrs. H. Denney entertained the group with several games, after which Mrs. P. Ratel and Mrs. W. Braden assisted Mrs. Warren with the serving of refreshments.

The general meeting of the Kelowna Wagon Wheelers was held on December 7th at the Senior High School, and officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Irma and Harold Hildred; vice-presidents, Winnie and John Bach; secretaries, Kay and Bob Morris; treasurers, Adele and Ted White; social conveners, Winnie Bach and Jean Edwards; delegates for the workshop, Mary and Bill Ralston and Joyce and Clem Chaplin.

The students and patrons of the Okanagan Academy enjoyed the films—"Yellow Knife," "Accident in the Home," and "Edison, the Man," on Saturday night, Dec. 9.

Mrs. Roy Schram of Gertsmar Road has gone to the Kelowna hospital for surgery.

SWINGING PARTNERS

By M. J. I.

Square Dancers had a gala time last Saturday with Christmas Square Dance Parties, both in and out of the Valley. The Okanagan Landing Club were hosts at their Christmas Party in the Japanese Community Hall in Vernon. Fred Proulx of Oliver was the emcee. The Westside Squares were hosts at their Christmas Party in the Community Hall in Westbank. Bob Emerson of Omak was the caller for their dance. The Wheel 'N' Stars hosted their Christmas Party in the Masonic Hall in Penticton and Percy Coulter of Penticton was the emcee at this one. To the south of us, Bill French of Oroville was the emcee at the Omak Christmas Party and several couples from the Valley travelled to Omak for this dance.

We have lots of square dance parties and fun on our Christmas Calendar so we will take a quick look at the Boxing Day and New Year Dances we have notices for to date.

Bridgesville is hosting a Boxing Day Party in the Community Hall and Ray Fredrickson of Summerland is the emcee, with guest callers invited to bring their records. Refreshments will be served. The Swing All Eight is the hosts and this is really an "all the family" club and is always fun for square dancers from eight up. There is usually a Boxing Day party in the northern part of the Valley, but no news on that one.

We will start in the northern

SURVIVAL COURSE PASSED

Maj. D. R. Cameron, second in command, B. C. Dragoons, Wednesday, inspected the first recruit to successfully pass the recent instituted army survival course. Some 47 men at the Vernon Military Camp took the course. The second phase of training is scheduled to begin Jan. 8, 1962. Also present at the brief ceremony was Lt.

Col. D. F. B. Kinlock, Mayor Frank Becker, and three city aldermen.

Lumby Strongly Opposes Hike In Phone Costs

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Lumby Village Council strongly opposes any rates increase by the Okanagan Telephone Co. It was unanimously decided to send a letter to the authorities protesting any such increase with two given reasons.

The first reason was due to the fire at Lumby Timber Co., the residents of the village could not possibly absorb any such increase.

The second reason came from observations by Pat Duke, retiring member of the commission who cited several examples of maintenance crew efficiency that directly affected such economy.

He cited for example the present arrangement where a Lumby residing foreman of the B.C. Hydro kept the vehicle in his possession while the rest of his crew resided in Vernon.

The foreman left Lumby to be in Vernon at an appropriate time. He and the crew then arrived in Lumby and had coffee in a local cafe from roughly 9 to 9:30 before moving on to Shuswap Falls for the day's work.

IN GOOD TIME

The local coffee crowd notices, says Mr. Duke, that they arrive back in Lumby for coffee in plenty of time for them to enjoy their brew plus arriving in Vernon by 5 p.m.

Several of the village fathers agreed to knowledge of similar situations with not only hydro but the Okanagan Telephone Co. "I don't think they should ask for an increase from our telephone subscribers until they show some economy in their own activities," said Mr. Duke.

Interpretation of the brief submitted by the Okanagan Telephone Co. showed Lumby would be faced by an increase of roughly 25 per cent.

There was some comment from the overall understanding that there had been no increase since something like 1952, but the commission was reminded of the increase in assessed businesses at the time of automation. The letter commenting on the increase will cover all these points.

A meeting in Camera has been called for next Wednesday afternoon with the village solicitor. Points of business will be easements already outstanding on the long since installed water works, deed for extra property for the curling rink, and ruling or some guidance on the expropriation by law on Lumby garbage disposal.

It was decided that a maximum of $1,000 was to be spent on new equipment. This was to include a six-foot wide snow bucket that could be affixed to the village tractor, a new automatic sander to speed up safety on the streets, a hydraulic lift for the present snow blade and drill and vice equipment for the shop.

SPECIAL PRAISE

A special letter of commendation is being sent to the Lumby Volunteer Fire Department. Several months ago they borrowed money from the village to buy the Scott air-paks. It has since been paid off through fund-raising within the department. Last week they in turn donated the fully paid equipment to the village. Said Greg Dickson, "it was a splendid effort."

Concern was expressed as to how well Lumby chimneys are being maintained. There have been three fires in one household chimney in the past three years and council decided to have the fire chief investigate.

"We read every day of children being burned to death through house fires," said Mr. Duke.

"I think the village should do everything in its power to prevent such tragedies."

Village by-law can enforce a $25 fine upon the property owner for not having the chimney swept as required.

Second reading was given to a bylaw authorizing the RCMP to dispose of dog running without leash and (two) license.

Concern was also expressed for parking around Dyck's Garage Ltd. All admitted that this business must have room to move the heavy trucks they service, but as it stands now they are more than blocking the view of motorists. Application is being made to the district engineer for ruling as Vernon Street is part of Highway Six.

Curling enthusiasm has not abated in Lumby with the closing of the opening bonspiel. End of the first week of the draw sees three rinks undefeated. These are, Bunny Derry, Wally Lesmeister and Basil Edwards.

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Asphyxiation through lack of oxygen was established as the cause of death of Robert Kenneth Gerlich, 24, whose body was discovered in the Iron Mask Mine, six miles west of Kamloops Nov. 25. The finding was made by a coroner's jury.

Vernon Christmas Rush Moves Into Top Gear

VERNON (Staff) — Merchants in the city claimed today that business, especially Christmas buying, is up and ahead of last year.

Despite the heavy and continuous snow fall during the past few days, people are buying Christmas presents earlier.

Of those business contacted, only one branch store manager said business had not increased yet over last year. But at the same time he said his store usually "began to move" the last week before Christmas.

Shopping hours for the holiday season are designed to accommodate the shoppers.

Vernon stores will be open two nights before Christmas and will open Dec. 18, Monday, normally a closed day.

Vernon Merchants Win Close Basketball Game

VERNON (Staff) — Host Vernon Merchants came out on top of a close 67-65 northern Senior B Basketball League game last night over Enderby.

Vernon's George Beardsmore hit the score sheet with a whopping big 40 points to lead the point getters. Closest man was Enderby's Jerry Reimer with 27.

The win made the Enderby-Vernon series one each. The first game saw Enderby down Vernon by a narrow 59-56.

Following the match a meeting took place with league officials who decided to drop further league play and have Enderby and Vernon merge as one team to play all remaining games as exhibitions only.

The decision came about following a third entry, a team from Revelstoke, decided to drop out of competition.

A Vernon spokesman said that the new Enderby-Vernon Combine will start practice on Monday at the High School gym and it is hoped to get a game in the near future with the Kelowna Royals of the Southern Senior B loop.

Cadets End Survival Course With Passing Out Parade

VERNON (Staff) — At a brief but impressive ceremony Wednesday, 47 young recruits took part in a passing out parade in which they were awarded certificates for successfully completing the six-week army survival course now in effect throughout Canada.

Unable to attend the parade, Lt.-Col. Alan Moss, of Kelowna, officer commanding B.C. Dragoons, delegated Maj. D. R.

Cameron, 2 I.C. of the regiment to appear and take the general salute as well as present the men with their awards.

The second course gets underway Jan. 8.

On a recent inspection tour here, Brig. Bishop lauded the men for their fine turnout, smart appearance, and attentiveness to the course.

Civic dignitaries, including outgoing Mayor Frank Becker, and army officers were present.

$120 STOLEN

VERNON (Staff) — Vernon Cigar and Stationery Store was broken into by unknown thieves last night. Approximately $120 was stolen in silver and bills.

Entry was gained by breaking glass in a rear door leading into the premises. RCMP are investigating.

Cantata To Be Sung Sunday

VERNON (Staff) — The chorals of the Vernon United Church will present The Prince of Peace, a Christmas cantata on Sunday in the church, at 7 p.m.

The Prince of Peace, written by Anne E. Pierce will be sung by the 50-girl choir directed by Mrs. Walter Karen with narration by Peter Bulman. Judy Dobson, Frieda Rank, Sandra Palmer, Karen Parks, Bonnie Palm and Marjorie Large will form a sextet for several of the numbers.

A vocal duet will be sung by Mrs. Walter Karen and David de Wolf.

Organizer is Mrs. Grant Stevenson and pianist, Mrs. Esther Nicholl.

This cantata tells of the Christmas story set by music.

Much New Investment By U.S. In West Canada

TORONTO (CP) — Substantial new investment of United States money in Western Canadian utilities is indicated in the proposals for purchase of common shares of Great Northern Gas Utilities Ltd., Edmonton.

The proposed purchasers are Williams Brothers Canada Ltd., a subsidiary of Williams Brothers, pipe line engineering company of Tulsa, Okla.; Lambert and Company, New York investment house; and three institutional investors whose identity or nationality has not been disclosed.

Under the immediate proposals Great Northern common shares would be sold as follows: Williams Brothers 268,667; Lambert 268,667; two institutional investors 80,171.

Under further contemplated plans, depending on certain transactions, the two institutional investors would get a further 84,615 shares and options on a 133,350 shares. A third institutional investor would buy 110,000 shares if it agrees to stand by for a one-year period to lend Great Northern $6,000,000 on a long-term basis. Price for all shares would be $9 a share.

Shares involved in the initial proposals with Williams, Lambert and two institutional investors total 613,503; and the additional shares in the further contemplated transactions would bring this total to 941,470.

APPROVE INCREASE

All these shares would be new treasury shares and the number compares with total issued shares of 699,560 at Nov. 30. Directors of the company have approved increase of authorized capital from 1,500,000 shares to 2,500,000.

Under the proposals Great Northern would acquire 375,000 shares, or 48.1 per cent of the common stock of Consolidated Toronto Development Corporation Ltd. from Lambert and Company and would get an option to buy a further 300,045 shares, the balance of Lambert's holdings.

Under contemplated deal with the unnamed institutions, Great Northern would get a further 47,500 shares of Consolidated Toronto and options to purchase more.

The effect of the proposals would be to give Great Northern control of Consolidated Toronto while its own control is spread further among various interests.

L. Sanford Reis of New York is president of Great Northern and it is assumed that a large portion of the company's shares are already held in the United States.

Lambert and Company, in addition to its proposed share purchases, would buy at par 52-per-cent subordinated notes of Great Northern, aggregating $3,000,000.

Value of Consolidated Toronto shares is not given in the current announcement. Consolidated is an Ontario corporation and its holdings include substantial interests in Atlantic Acceptance Corporation Ltd., Oakville, Ont.; in Camerina Petroleum Corporation; and in land developments in Etobicoke, Metropolitan Toronto.

Great Northern is a holding company and its subsidiaries include:

Plains-Western Gas and Electric Co. Ltd., operating natural gas systems in Alberta, British Columbia and Brandon, Man.; Rockgas Propane Ltd., distributing propane gas in British Columbia and with a number of B.C. subsidiaries; Great Northern Gas Co. Ltd., distributing gas in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and with further interests in companies operating in Northern Ontario.

Great Northern's total assets at Dec. 31, 1960, were shown at $15,806,521.

GAP NARROWS

E. Berliners and their Soviet masters are steadily closing the gaps from East to West Berlin. Here is a scene at Heinrich Heine Strasse checkpoint. Right is a canopy entrance for people, and in the foreground are East German policemen. Steel tank traps can be seen in the background.

E. German Hearts Heavy In Awaiting Christmas

EAST BERLIN (Reuters)—East Berliners await this year's Christmas with heavy hearts and little cheer.

Ever since the Second World War, in spite of the political situation and travel restrictions, nothing has stopped East and West Berliners from visiting each other's home to celebrate a traditional German Christmas.

This year there is the wall. Neither East nor West Berliners are allowed to pass through, though some nurture a hope that authorities will relent at the last moment and open the border for the holiday.

To counter the heavy hearts, East Berlin authorities have launched an all-out campaign to ensure a full supply of Christmas goods.

There have been no pre-Christmas shortages of basic commodities. Candy and tree decorations are all in good supply.

WILL HOLD FAIR
The traditional Christmas fair is being held in Marx-Engels plaza. Stalls have been erected, sidestalls prepared and a giant tree raised above the scene. East Berlin's department store opened its Christmas display for children more than six weeks before the holiday. Its chief attractions are models of space ships and pictures of Soviet spacemen Yuri Gagarin and Gherman Titov.

A new trend this year is the appearance of military toys. There are models of tanks, soldiers, rockets and ships.

Communist authorities, while disapproving of the religious side of the holiday, have made no effort to interfere with it and churches are expected to be packed as usual on Christmas morning.

West Berliners cut off from East Berlin relatives by the wall plan to show that those on the other side are not forgotten. More than 2,000 decorated, brightly lit Christmas trees will line the whole border around West Berlin.

How's JFK Making Out? --He's Doing Very Well

No U.S. president ever took office with more precise ideas of what he wanted to do than John F. Kennedy. How has John F. Kennedy measured up to his own vision? This is the first of three articles appraising the Kennedy record by a seasoned Washington reporter who covered his 1960 campaign.

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—How is John F. Kennedy doing as president?

It has been a year since his election, and 11 months since his move into the White House.

Has Kennedy gone forward with the daring, imaginative leadership he said the United States so desperately needed?

Or, as some disenchanted Kennedy enthusiasts of 1960 now suggest, has his administration compromised so frequently it has, in their view, out-Eisenhowered Dwight D. Eisenhower?

Talk to the men around Kennedy and the answer is almost always the same: He is doing exceptionally well.

Except for Cuba, an obvious and admitted disaster, few mistakes are confessed, publicly or privately. If one even dares to suggest that an alternative course might have produced better results, the rebuttal is instantaneous and smooth, like a salesman's speech that has been tailored in advance to meet each objection.

RESPONSE OPPOSITE

Talk to men far removed from Kennedy, politically and literally, and the standard Republican response is exactly the opposite: The new frontier is floundering; Kennedy already is a failure.

The very vehemence of their replies suggests that neither side is too sure of its ground, that each fears there's some truth in the other's argument.

Some confusion can be traced directly to Kennedy and the type of election campaign he waged.

For he not only made the usual promises but he also went far beyond. Repeatedly, almost constantly, he talked of the ideal presidency.

Few men ever pursued the ideal so openly and persistently. Kennedy's speech, off the coast of Africa, covers 241,000 square miles.

Kennedy pictured an alert, aggressive, positive leadership world of trouble. Even then, before his administration had a chance to get the administration of the whole shaken down properly, came April 17 and the Cuban invasion — a shocking, humiliating failure that was heard, and denounced, around the world.

GRAND PROMISE
He came up with one of the most far-reaching promises ever made in a business revolution for over-reaching itself.

"I am not promising action in the first 100 days alone," he said. "I am promising you 1,000 days of exacting presidential leadership."

Well, he started out as if he meant every moment of it. Kennedy and the eager young men around him set such a pace in those early weeks that Washington, always an exciting place when a new administration takes over, seemed in a ferment that would stir it to the bottom of its bureaucracy.

But fate was unkind to Kennedy. Whereas foreign affairs, Eisenhower comparatively little difficulty during his year, Kennedy was beset

Soviet Air Supremacy Denied By Publication

LONDON (AP)—Any theory that the Soviet Union now builds better planes than the West was challenged Tuesday by James All The World's Aircraft, guide book on world aviation.

The preface to James' 1961-62 edition recalled the gaps that went up after a spectacular Moscow fly-out on Soviet aviation day last July that gave the West a first glimpse of many new Russian aircraft.

"What must be remembered," James said, "is that the Russians had not displayed their aviation might in this way for five years."

The writer suggested that if Britain abolished its own annual air displays for five years and then unveiled all its new planes "the effect could have been equally startling."

"It would be wrong," James said, "to underestimate the capabilities of Soviet designers or of their aircraft, but there is little evidence to suggest that men or airplanes are superior to their Western counterparts." For the first time, James formally admitted spaceships into

GRANT DEXTER'S DEATH

Pearson Pays Tribute To Editor

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition editor emeritus of the Winnipeg Leader Pearson said today that Free Press, "Canada has lost in the death of Grant Dexter, one of her most distinguished journalists whose wise and informed analysis of public questions over many years has been a guiding light in the history of the charges arising from the Algerian war will be freed at the end of the year by presidential pardon, reliable sources said to be on holiday. Mr. Dexter died Tuesday night in Ottawa.

"His influence on the development of opinion in our time was, I venture to say, worthy of comparison with that of the great editor, John Diefenbaker, whose friendship I valued more than any other. It will be very hard to replace him and it will be impossible to forget him."

"A host of friends, and he had a genius for deep friendship, have lost one whose human qualities of kindness and generosity were unmatched. I have myself known Grant any Canadian province."

Kids Might Be Cheaper By Dozen For This Pair

MONTREAL (CP) — Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bolsvert of 43, rue d'Arce Ave. in Montreal, are expecting their 20th child, Jeanne d'Arc Ave. in Montreal. "Some people think we have a real north end should know in two big families, and we have April whether children are to admit that the budget lives cheaper by the dozen or by the dangerously," say the couple. "But we think that couples That's when the stocky, dark-skinned, 43-year-old husband, and her 45-year-old husband, a worse off than we are."

Three of the children, Madeleine, 19, Therese, 20, and Emile, 22, are in religious orders. Andre, 21, is married, and Camille, 14, goes to boarding school. The rest of the family fill to overflowing the Bolsvert's tidy two-story flat in the brick triplex they own. They are Daniel, 2, Lise, 3, twins Lucille and Annette, 4, Jeanne, 5, Paul, 6, Pauline, 7, Francoise, 8, Helene, 9, Marie-Ange, 10, Roland, 12, Mireille, 13, Maurice, 17, and Marguerite, 18.

Food costs the family $350 a month with five to seven quarts of milk and three loaves of bread being consumed daily. A help of an auto-owning friend to take them all on a picnic.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

The bidding:
South West North East
1♥ Pass 2NT Pass
3♥ Pass 4♥

Opening lead—four of clubs.

Declarer begins the play of most hands played in suit contracts by counting his losers. This usually gives him a pretty good idea of his chances of making the contract. However, while this is generally a good practice to follow, it does not always lead to the right conclusion.

Take this hand. West leads a club and East takes the king and continues with the ace. Declarer ruffs, of course, and at this point has no reason to fear the outcome of the hand.

But when he leads a heart to the ace and West shows out, South has something to worry about. Apparently, he is down one because he has already lost a club and still has two hearts and a diamond to lose. At least, that's what a count of his losers they seem, though, and if South plays correctly, he still makes the contract. Warned of the bad trump break, he takes steps to overcome it. He starts by ruffing another club in his hand.

Then he cashes three spades and the A-K of diamonds, winding up in dummy. At this point, South having won eight tricks, the situation is:

North

♦ J
West
♠ Q6
♥ Q10
East
♠ 1074

♣ AK5

Dummy leads the jack of clubs. Regardless of what East does, South wins two of the four remaining tricks.

If East discards a diamond, South ruffs and makes ten tricks. These consist of three clubs he has trumped in his hand, the A-K-Q of spades, the A-K of hearts, and the A-K of diamonds.

If East ruffs the club instead, South simply discards a diamond, thus telescoping two losers into one. He then makes ten tricks by force. One of his losers disappears.

HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
This day augurs well for social and domestic affairs. The accent is on optimism and pleasantness in both business and personal relationships, so the day should be a most stimulating one in most respects. It is not, however, one in which to engage in financial dealings or in any negotiations where monetary matters are at stake. In fact, it would be better to postpone even the simplest of financial discussions until a more propitious period.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find any minor difficulties with which you were confronted during the past year gradually cleaning up. This is the time for you to begin that new venture you have planned or to take on new responsibilities, but it would be well for you to seek competent advice before actually starting.

Between now and mid-July, you may find that you will have to make some changes in your original plans, but the changes are for the better, so, by the end of the year, your affairs should be well stabilized. Personal relationships will be governed by generous influences for most of the year ahead. A child born on this day will be sympathetic, intuitive and extremely self-confident.

Three Newcomers Win In Vancouver Polling

VANCOUVER (CP) — Three for seats they had won as NPA newcomers, headed by a veteran of two world wars, who became a brigadier, were elected Wednesday during light voting.

Two incumbents were re-elected and one was defeated, providing money for new element. The voters, few of whom turned out in damp weather in a non-majority election that had few major issues, also approved a $8,000,000 school building referendum and chose four of the new school trustees and park commissioners.

The newcomers were headed by A. Bell-Irving, a city businessman trying for his first 1929 public office who ran a Non-Partisan Association candidate. He was followed in the polling by Thomas Campbell, a lawyer endorsed by the rival Civic Voters Association.

William Orson Banfield of the NPA was the other newcomer and Aldermen Frank Fredrickson, a member of hockey's hall of fame, and Bert Emery, both of whom ran as independents.

Marconi Just Had Breaks Claims Ham Imitators

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Society president Harry Halyard said, but the reception on the modern equipment tried Tuesday to duplicate the feat of radio pioneer Guglielmo Marconi used a band lower on the broadcast scale, now reserved for ships at sea, where reception is usually better.

Marconi was lucky," Mr. Halyard said.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Newfoundland Premier J. R. Smallwood were waiting to be transmitted, but the hams decided the tapes would not be understood at the other end.

Instead, they moved their equipment to a point about three miles from St. John's, where an amateur had reported better reception.

But by the time they arrived, it too had deteriorated.

"Marconi was lucky," Mr. Halyard said.

Tape recorded messages from yard said.
